INSIDE THIS GUIDE

Contents

Every guest who leaves happy is a future direct booking. This guide turns that into a system: collect consent, send the right message at the right moment, and measure what comes back.

IMPORTANT

This guide explains UK rules in plain English. It is general information, not legal advice. For anything unusual, read the ICO's guidance on direct marketing or ask a professional. Figures are worked examples or assumptions, labelled as estimates.

00 INTRODUCTION

The cheapest booking is the guest who already loves you

A new guest has to find you, compare you, trust you and take a chance. A returning guest just needs to remember you, and see that their dates are free.

Platform service fee when a returning guest books on your own site

0
Competing listings beside yours in an email to your own list

1
Well-timed message is often all it takes to start the conversation

Why most hosts never get there

- Guest emails are masked by the platforms
- No consent was collected, so marketing is off-limits
- Nobody remembers to send the message eleven months later
- When they do, it is a generic "we miss you" that nobody acts on

What the engine fixes

- [ ] A consent-first way to build a list from every stay
- [ ] Segments, so each message is relevant
- [ ] Plays timed to the guest's own calendar
- [ ] Templates you can send today
- [ ] A short scorecard so you know what works

THE ENGINE IN ONE LINE

Consent at every stay, relevance in every message, timing that matches the guest's year, and a reason to book direct.

01 THE MATHS OF A RETURNING GUEST

What one guest list could be worth

Two worked examples. Swap in your own figures. The assumptions are illustrations, not benchmarks.

Example A: one guest over three years

ESTIMATE ONLY

	ALL VIA PLATFORM	STAYS 2 AND 3 DIRECT
Three stays at £480 each (3 nights × £160)	£1,440.00	£1,440.00
Platform host-only fee, 15.5%	-£223.20	-£74.40
Card processing on direct stays, assume 2%	£0.00	-£19.20
You keep	£1,216.80	£1,346.40

About £130 more from one returning guest. Multiply by every guest who comes back.

Example B: a list of 400 past guests

ESTIMATE ONLY

Guests reaching their stay anniversary each month (400 ÷ 12)	about 33
Assumed share who book again from the anniversary email	5%
Direct bookings a year (33 × 5% × 12)	about 20
Direct revenue at £480 a booking	£9,600
Platform fees avoided at 15.5%, less 2% card processing	£1,296

5% is an assumption for the example. Your rate could be higher or lower. Track your own and replace it after three months.

THE REAL UPSIDE

These bookings also arrive earlier, fill your best weeks with guests who already respect the home, and cost almost nothing to win.

02 BUILD YOUR LIST LEGALLY

UK GDPR and PECR in plain English

Two sets of rules apply. UK GDPR covers how you collect, store and use guests' personal data. PECR covers marketing by email and text. Both are enforced by the ICO.

SITUATION	MARKETING EMAIL OR TEXT	WHAT YOU NEED TO DO
Guest booked direct with you	Usually allowed under the soft opt-in, for similar stays	Give a clear chance to opt out when you collect their details, and in every message
Guest booked via a platform	Ask for consent first	An optional, unticked sign-up the guest chooses. Keep it separate from check-in access
Enquired but did not book	Soft opt-in can apply if they gave details while discussing a booking	Offer the opt-out at the time. If in doubt, ask for consent
Friend of a guest	Needs their own consent	Never email people whose details a guest passed on. Give guests a link or code to share instead

SERVICE MESSAGES ARE DIFFERENT

Booking confirmations, arrival instructions and checkout reminders are not marketing, so they do not need marketing consent. Keep them that way. Adding a promotion turns them into marketing.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING

- [ ] A privacy notice that says what you collect and why
- [ ] Records of when and how each person signed up
- [ ] Unsubscribes honoured promptly and kept on a suppression list
- [ ] Check whether you need to pay the ICO data protection fee

General information, not legal advice. Rules on electronic marketing can change. See the ICO's current guidance on PECR and direct marketing.

02 WHERE AND HOW TO COLLECT CONSENT

Make joining easy, optional and worth it

1 · DIRECT BOOKING CHECKOUT

An unticked box for marketing, plus your soft opt-in notice. Most direct guests will be on your list from here.

2 · ONLINE CHECK-IN

An optional sign-up step after the essentials. Make it clear the door code does not depend on it.

3 · IN THE HOME

A QR card in the welcome book: "Get first pick of next year's dates." Links to a simple sign-up page.

4 · ON YOUR WEBSITE

A short form on every page for people not ready to book yet: "Hear about quiet-week offers."

Consent wording you can adapt

TEMPLATE · SIGN-UP CHECKBOX (EMAIL) — UNTICKED BY DEFAULT

☐ Email me about available dates, returning guest rates and offers at `{business}`. About `{once a month}`. Unsubscribe any time with one click.

TEMPLATE · SIGN-UP CHECKBOX (TEXT) — SEPARATE FROM EMAIL

☐ Text me occasional last-minute dates and returning guest offers. No more than `{2 a month}`. Reply STOP to opt out.

TEMPLATE · SOFT OPT-IN NOTICE (DIRECT BOOKINGS) — NEXT TO THE EMAIL FIELD

We'll use your email for this booking. We may also send you occasional news and offers about stays with us.
☐ Tick here if you'd rather not hear from us. You can unsubscribe at any time.

GIVE A REASON

"Join our list" is weak. "Get first pick of next summer's weeks before they go on Airbnb" is a reason. Returning guest rates, early access and gap-night alerts all work.

03 SEGMENT YOUR LIST

The right guest, the right message

One email to everyone is the fastest way to earn unsubscribes. A few simple segments make every message feel personal.

SEGMENT	WHO IS IN IT	BEST PLAYS
Recent guests	Stayed in the last 12 months	Anniversary, next season first pick
Repeat guests	Two or more stays	Early access, a loyalty thank-you, new home launch
Lapsed guests	No stay in 18+ months	"What's new", a gentle win-back, then stop
Dog owners	Brought a dog	Dog-friendly quiet weeks, new walks guide
Families	Stayed with children	School holidays and half-term, booked early
Couples	Two adults	Midweek breaks, winter weekends, anniversaries
Nearby guests	Live within a couple of hours' drive	Last-minute gap nights and weekend breaks

What to record for every guest

- [ ] Name, email, mobile and how they consented
- [ ] Home, dates and length of each stay
- [ ] Booking source: direct or which platform
- [ ] Group: couple, family, friends, with dog
- [ ] Occasion, if they told you: birthday, anniversary
- [ ] Home town or region, if they gave it
- [ ] Review left, and what they loved
- [ ] Anything to avoid: complaints, issues, opt-outs

EXAMPLE GUEST RECORD (FICTIONAL)

Jo Hartley
Bristol · family of 4

2 stays
May half-term 2025, 2026

Email: soft opt-in
Direct booking, opt-out offered

Text: consented
Checkout, 30 May 2026

FAMILIES REPEAT DOG: BISCUIT Loved the rockpools and the bunk room. Anniversary email due late March.

Collect only what you will use, keep it secure, and decide how long you keep it. That is good practice under UK GDPR as well as good manners.

03 THE GUEST JOURNEY

Nine moments, one map

Service messages make the stay smooth. Marketing messages, sent only with the right permission, bring guests back. Here is when each one lands.

BOOKING DAY · SERVICE
Welcome and confirmation
Dates, total, address area, what happens next.

7 DAYS BEFORE · SERVICE
Pre-arrival guide
Online check-in link, parking, local tips.

ARRIVAL DAY · SERVICE
Door code and Wi-Fi
Sent when check-in is complete.

DAY 2 · SERVICE
Quick check-in text
"Everything OK?" Catch problems before the review.

CHECKOUT MORNING · SERVICE
Checkout reminder
Time, keys, bins. Short and friendly.

DAY AFTER · THANK YOU
Thank you and review
A review request, plus the returning guest perk if they are on your list.

10 TO 11 MONTHS · MARKETING
Anniversary
"Your week is open again." First pick before the platforms.

QUIET SEASON · MARKETING
Off-season and gap nights
Short-notice gaps offered to your list first.

OCCASIONAL · MARKETING
News and launches
A new home, a hot tub, a refurb, next year's calendar open.

BLUE DOTS
Service messages. Every guest, every booking, no marketing content.

YELLOW DOTS
Marketing. Only to guests who opted in or are covered by the soft opt-in.

04 PLAY 1 · WELCOME AND PRE-ARRIVAL

Start the relationship on day one

The welcome sets the tone for the stay, and for whether the guest thinks of you as a business they could book directly. Keep these strictly practical.

EMAIL · BOOKING CONFIRMATION — IMMEDIATELY · SERVICE MESSAGE

Subject: You're booked at `{home}`, `{arrival_date}` to `{departure_date}`

Hi `{first_name}`, thank you for booking `{home}`. Here are your details:

Dates: `{arrival_date}` from `{check_in_time}` to `{departure_date}` by `{checkout_time}`
Guests: `{guests}` · Paid: `{amount_paid}` · Balance due: `{balance}` on `{balance_date}`

A week before you arrive we'll send a link to check in online. It takes about three minutes. Your door code arrives as soon as it's done. Any questions, just reply to this email.

`{host_name}`

EMAIL · PRE-ARRIVAL GUIDE — 7 DAYS BEFORE · SERVICE MESSAGE

Subject: A week to go: check in online and plan your stay

Hi `{first_name}`, you're at `{home}` a week today. Three things:

1. Check in online here: `{check_in_link}`. Your door code follows.
2. Parking: `{parking_notes}`.
3. Book ahead for `{popular_restaurant}` on a Saturday. It fills up.

TEXT · ARRIVAL DAY — ON CHECK-IN COMPLETION · SERVICE MESSAGE

Hi `{first_name}`, you're all set for `{home}`. Door code `{code}`, works from `{time}`. Wi-Fi: `{wifi}`. Text me here if you need anything. `{host_name}`

04 PLAY 2 · CHECKOUT AND THANK YOU

End on a high, and leave the door open

The day after checkout is when goodwill peaks. Ask for a review while the stay is fresh, and, for guests on your list, plant the idea of coming back direct.

TEXT · CHECKOUT MORNING — 8:00 ON DEPARTURE DAY · SERVICE MESSAGE

Morning `{first_name}`! Checkout is by `{time}`. Keys in the lockbox, bins by the gate. No need to strip beds. Safe travels, and thank you for looking after the place.

EMAIL · THANK YOU (GUEST ON YOUR LIST) — DAY AFTER CHECKOUT · MARKETING

Subject: Thank you for staying at `{home}`

Hi `{first_name}`, thank you for staying with us. We hope `{personal_detail}`.

If you have two minutes, an honest review really helps: `{review_link}`

And if you'd like to come back, book on our own site next time and use `{code}` for `{returning_guest_offer}`. Returning guests also get first pick of next year's dates before they go anywhere else.

You're receiving this because you joined our guest list. `{unsubscribe_link}`

EMAIL · THANK YOU (NOT ON YOUR LIST) — DAY AFTER CHECKOUT · SERVICE MESSAGE

Hi `{first_name}`, thank you for staying at `{home}`. We hope you had a lovely time. If anything could have been better, just reply: we read every message.

A THANK-YOU THAT WORKS

- [ ] Sent the day after, not weeks later
- [ ] One personal detail from the stay
- [ ] One review link, to one place
- [ ] A returning guest code that is easy to type
- [ ] Signed by a named person
- [ ] Unsubscribe link on the marketing version

PLATFORM GUESTS

For guests who booked on a platform and did not join your list, keep post-stay messages inside that platform's messaging and within its rules. Do not mention booking direct there.

04 PLAY 3 · THE ANNIVERSARY

"Your week is open again"

People repeat holidays at the same time of year: the same half-term, the same birthday weekend, the same week in August. Offer it back to them before anyone else can book it.

10–11
Months after the stay is a good time to send, before most people plan

7 days
A sensible hold before the dates open to everyone

1
Button: "Book these dates". Nothing else to click

EMAIL · ANNIVERSARY — 10 TO 11 MONTHS AFTER THE STAY · MARKETING

Subject: Same week next year, `{first_name}`?

Hi `{first_name}`, this time last year you were at `{home}` for `{occasion_or_dates}`.

The same week next year, `{next_year_dates}`, is free. We're holding it for returning guests until `{hold_date}` before it goes on the booking sites.

[Book these dates] Use `{code}` on our site for `{returning_guest_offer}`.

Different dates in mind? Reply and we'll check.

`{unsubscribe_link}`

TEXT · ANNIVERSARY FOLLOW-UP — 3 DAYS LATER, ONLY IF NOT OPENED · MARKETING

Hi `{first_name}`, it's `{host_name}` at `{home}`. Your week, `{dates}`, is still free until `{hold_date}`: `{short_link}`. Reply STOP to opt out.

Set up your anniversary play

DECIDE ONCE

1 Months after the stay to send ____
2 Days to hold the dates ____
3 Returning guest offer ______
4 Code (short, easy to type) ______

MAKE IT PERSONAL

Mention the occasion if you know it ("for Sam's 40th"), the dog by name, or the thing they loved in their review. One genuine detail beats any discount.

04 PLAY 4 · OFF-SEASON AND GAP NIGHTS

Fill the quiet weeks before you discount publicly

Offer short-notice gaps and quiet months to your list first, at a modest discount. You fill nights, and your public prices stay where they are.

Worked example: a two-night gap

ESTIMATE ONLY

Usual price, 2 nights at £150	£300
List-only offer, 15% off	£255
Extra changeover cost, if the gap would otherwise stay empty	-£45
Better off than an empty gap by	£210

Cleaning cost and discount are assumptions. Set your own floor: the lowest price that still beats an empty night once costs are covered.

EMAIL · GAP NIGHTS — AS SOON AS A GAP APPEARS · MARKETING

Subject: 2 nights just opened at `{home}`, `{dates}`

Hi `{first_name}`, a short break just came free: `{dates}`. As someone who's stayed before, it's yours for `{price}` (usually `{usual_price}`) if you book on our site by `{deadline}`. [Grab the dates]

EMAIL · OFF-SEASON — 4 TO 8 WEEKS BEFORE A QUIET MONTH · MARKETING

Subject: `{area}` in `{month}`: quieter paths, cosier evenings

Hi `{first_name}`, `{month}` is our favourite time at `{home}`: `{seasonal_detail}`. Midweek stays are `{offer}` for returning guests this `{month}`. [See dates]

Your gap-night floor

PER NIGHT

A Usual nightly price	£ ____	C Utilities and consumables per night	£ ____
B Extra changeover cost ÷ nights	£ ____	D Floor: B + C, plus a margin	£ ____

DO NOT OVERDO IT

If every email is a discount, guests learn to wait. Keep offers for genuine gaps and quiet weeks, and send no more than you would want to receive.

04 PLAYS 5 TO 7

Launches, referrals and the year ahead

EMAIL · NEW HOME LAUNCH — 2 WEEKS BEFORE PUBLIC LISTING · MARKETING

Subject: Our new place in `{village}`, first to you

Hi `{first_name}`, you stayed at `{previous_home}`, so we wanted you to see this first. `{new_home}` sleeps `{n}` and has `{hero_feature}`. Past guests can book any date before `{public_date}`, when it goes on the booking sites. [Have a look]

EMAIL · SHARE WITH A FRIEND — ONCE A YEAR, TO HAPPY GUESTS · MARKETING

Subject: Know someone who'd love `{home}`?

Hi `{first_name}`, lots of our guests come from recommendations. If a friend would enjoy `{home}`, send them this link: `{share_link}`. They'll get `{friend_offer}` when they book direct, and we'll send you `{thank_you}` after their stay.

We never ask for your friends' details. You share the link, they decide.

EMAIL · NEXT YEAR'S CALENDAR IS OPEN — WHEN YOU LOAD NEXT YEAR'S DATES · MARKETING

Subject: `{year}` dates are open, for you first

Hi `{first_name}`, we've just opened `{year}` at `{home}`. School holidays and bank holiday weekends go first. Returning guests have until `{date}` before they open to everyone. [Choose your dates]

EMAIL · WIN-BACK FOR LAPSED GUESTS — 18+ MONTHS SINCE LAST STAY · MARKETING

Subject: A lot has changed at `{home}`

Hi `{first_name}`, it's been a while since your stay in `{year}`. Since then we've added `{whats_new}`. If you'd like to see it for yourself, `{offer}` on our site until `{date}`. And if you'd rather not hear from us, unsubscribe below: no hard feelings. `{unsubscribe_link}`

REFERRAL REWARDS

Be clear about any reward, and never ask for a review as part of a referral offer. A thank-you for a friend's stay is fine; a reward for a positive review is not.

Short, specific, one button

Subject lines that work for hosts

- Dates: "2 nights just opened, 14 to 16 March"
- Their name and place: "Same week next year, Sarah?"
- A real reason: "First pick of summer before it goes on Airbnb"
- A season: "Borrowdale in November: quieter paths"

Avoid

- ALL CAPS, "!!!", fake "Re:" or "Fwd:"
- Vague openers: "Newsletter #4", "News from us"
- Promises the email does not keep

The body

1. Open with them, not you. Their stay, their dog, their week.
2. Say the offer in one sentence. Dates, price, deadline.
3. One button that says what it does: "Book these dates".
4. Sign it as a person. Your name, not "The Team".
5. Plain and short. 60 to 120 words is plenty for most plays.

Before and after

BEFORE

Subject: Newsletter, Spring Edition
Dear Valued Guest, spring has sprung here at our wonderful properties and we have lots of exciting news to share with you including some fantastic offers across our portfolio. Read on to find out more!

AFTER

Subject: Your May half-term week is free, Jo
Hi Jo, last May half-term you were at Harbour View with the kids. The same week, 23 to 30 May, is free and we're holding it for you until Friday. Book on our site with code BACK10 for 10% off. [Book these dates] Ellie

Personal details worth using

DETAIL	EXAMPLE LINE
Last stay dates	"Last May half-term you were at Harbour View."
Group	"Room for the four of you again."
Pet's name	"Biscuit's favourite beach is quiet in September."
Something from their review	"You loved the rockpools. Low tide is mid-morning that week."

THE TEST

Would the guest know, from the subject line alone, why this email is for them? If not, rewrite it.

06 TEXT MESSAGES DONE RIGHT

Texts get read. Use them sparingly.

A text arrives in the same place as messages from family. That makes it powerful, and easy to get wrong. Under PECR, marketing texts follow the same consent rules as marketing email.

DO

- [ ] Use texts for time-sensitive things: gap nights, arrival details
- [ ] Say who you are in the first few words
- [ ] Keep it to one short message
- [ ] Include a link and "Reply STOP to opt out" on marketing texts
- [ ] Send at sociable times, roughly 9am to 8pm

DON'T

- [ ] Text marketing to anyone who has not opted in or is not covered by the soft opt-in
- [ ] Send more than a couple of marketing texts a month
- [ ] Use texts for long news or newsletters
- [ ] Ignore STOP replies, even in a different wording
- [ ] Send from a number you never reply from

Four text templates

GAP NIGHTS · MARKETING

`{host}` at `{home}`: `{dates}` just came free. `{price}` for past guests if booked by `{day}`: `{link}` Reply STOP to opt out

NEXT YEAR OPEN · MARKETING

`{host}` here. `{year}` dates at `{home}` are open to past guests until `{date}`: `{link}` Reply STOP to opt out

MID-STAY CHECK · SERVICE

Hi `{first_name}`, `{host}` here. Settling in OK? Anything you need, just text back.

BALANCE REMINDER · SERVICE

Hi `{first_name}`, a reminder that the balance for `{home}` is due on `{date}`. Pay here: `{link}`

EMAIL OR TEXT?

Use email for anything with detail: anniversaries, next year's calendar, launches. Use text when timing is everything: a gap that opened this morning, a balance due tomorrow, arrival instructions. If in doubt, email.

07 DELIVERABILITY BASICS

Land in the inbox, not the spam folder

The best email in the world earns nothing if it lands in spam. The big mailbox providers now expect senders to prove who they are and make unsubscribing easy.

Set up once

- [ ] Send from your own domain, for example hello@yourcottage.co.uk, not a free webmail address
- [ ] Set up SPF, DKIM and DMARC records for that domain. Your email provider will give you the values
- [ ] Use a proper email sending service for campaigns, not your personal inbox with everyone in BCC
- [ ] Include a one-click unsubscribe link in every marketing email
- [ ] Add your business name and contact details in the footer

Every send

- [ ] Send only to people who opted in or are covered by the soft opt-in
- [ ] Remove addresses that bounce
- [ ] Stop emailing people who have not opened or clicked in a long time, after one last check-in
- [ ] Keep a steady rhythm rather than a sudden burst to everyone
- [ ] Send yourself a test and check it on a phone

PLAIN ENGLISH GLOSSARY

SPF
A list of the services allowed to send email for your domain.

DKIM
A digital signature that proves an email really came from you.

DMARC
Tells inboxes what to do with mail that fails SPF or DKIM checks.

MONTH 0
Active
Opens or clicks, gets every relevant play

12 MONTHS QUIET
Check in
"Still want to hear from us?" with one click to stay

›

NO RESPONSE
Stop sending
Move to a do-not-email list. Keep the stay history

WHY OPEN RATES MISLEAD

Some email apps load images automatically, which can count as an "open" even if nobody read the email. Treat open rates as a rough signal. Clicks and bookings tell you more.

08 SIMPLE NUMBERS TO TRACK

Seven numbers, no spreadsheet degree needed

NUMBER	HOW TO WORK IT OUT	WHAT TO DO WITH IT
Sign-up rate	New list sign-ups ÷ stays in the period	Low? Improve the reason and the placement
List size	People you can legally market to today	Should grow every month you have guests
Click rate	People who clicked ÷ emails delivered	Low? Sharpen subject, offer and button
Booking rate	Bookings from a campaign ÷ emails delivered	The number that matters most per play
Revenue per send	Campaign revenue ÷ emails delivered	Compare plays fairly, whatever the list size
Unsubscribe rate	Unsubscribes ÷ emails delivered	Rising? Send less often or segment better
Repeat rate	Guests with 2+ stays ÷ all guests	The long-term health of the engine

Worked example: reading one campaign

EXAMPLE FIGURES

300
Emails delivered

36
Clicked: 12% click rate

6
Booked: 2% booking rate

£9.60
Revenue per send (6 × £480 ÷ 300)

Illustrative numbers to show the arithmetic, not a benchmark. Your first three campaigns become your own benchmark.

ONE CHANGE AT A TIME

When you want to improve a play, change one thing (subject, offer, timing or segment) and compare with the last send. Changing everything at once teaches you nothing.

PLANNER

A 12-month UK campaign calendar

Anniversary, thank-you and gap-night plays run all year. These are the seasonal sends to layer on top. Adjust for your area: Edinburgh in August is not Cornwall in August.

JANUARY
Next year's planning season. "Summer dates open for past guests."

FEBRUARY
Half-term breaks. Spring midweek offers for couples.

MARCH
Easter holidays. Gap nights before the season starts.

APRIL
May bank holiday weekends. Late Easter gaps.

MAY
Half-term week. Last call on summer weeks.

JUNE
Festival and event stays. Gaps between bookings.

JULY
Thank you plays at full swing. September shoulder offers.

AUGUST
Peak. Service messages only, plus autumn first pick.

SEPTEMBER
Quieter, warmer weeks for couples and dog owners.

OCTOBER
Half-term. Christmas and New Year to your list first.

NOVEMBER
Winter breaks. Gift vouchers, if you offer them.

DECEMBER
Thank you to the year's guests. Next year opens.

Your key dates

EVENTS, SCHOOL HOLIDAYS, LOCAL FESTIVALS

RHYTHM, NOT VOLUME

One or two useful marketing emails a month is plenty for most hosts. Your automated plays do the rest in the background.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLE

Example host: Priya, two flats in Edinburgh

Priya is not a real customer. She is a composite we use to show how the engine fits together over a year. All figures are estimates.

2
Flats in the New Town, sleeping 2 and 4

~210
Stays a year, mostly via platforms

0
Guests on her list at the start

£420
Average booking value assumed

MONTHS 1 TO 3

Consent at every stay

A QR card in each flat and an optional step in online check-in, promising first pick of Festival dates. Direct bookers covered by the soft opt-in from day one.

MONTHS 4 TO 8

Service messages, then thank you

Her arrival and checkout messages are automated. Guests on the list get the thank-you email with a returning guest code.

MONTH 9

The Festival play

In autumn, past August guests on her list get first pick of next year's Festival weeks before they open on the platforms.

MONTHS 10 TO 12

Winter gaps and Hogmanay

Short winter breaks and gap nights go to nearby guests first.

If 1 in 4 stays joins the list, and 1 in 20 of those rebooks direct within the year ESTIMATE ONLY

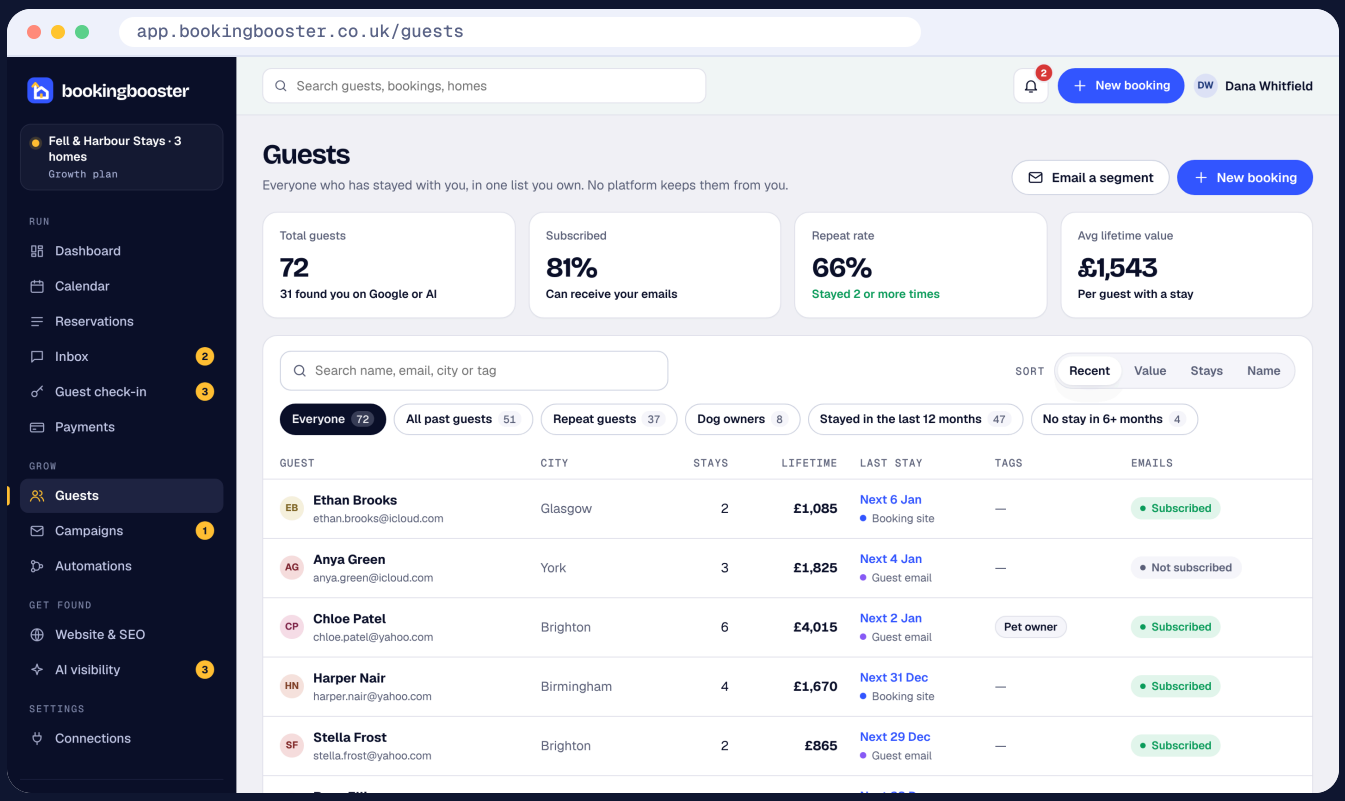

List built in year one (25% of 210 stays)	about 52
Direct rebookings in the year (5% of 52, rounded)	about 3
Direct revenue at £420 a booking	£1,260
Platform fees avoided at 15.5%, less 2% card processing	£170

Year one is about building the list. The pay-off comes when hundreds of past guests reach their anniversary each year and book direct, fee free.

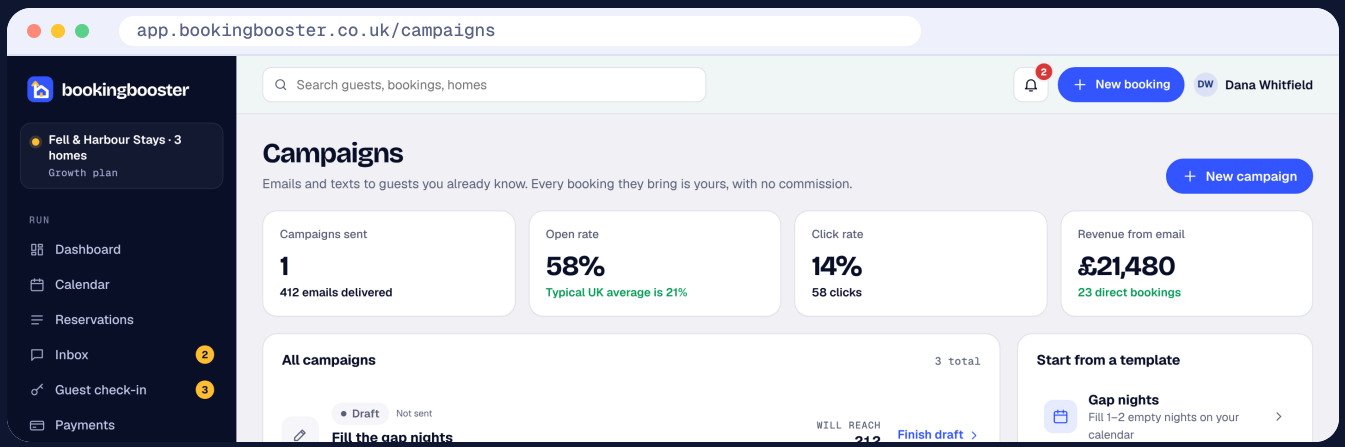

HOW BOOKINGBOOSTER DOES THIS FOR YOU

Your guest list and campaigns in one place

Bookingbooster keeps every direct guest, plus the guests you import, in one list you own, tracks who can receive your emails, and runs the plays in this guide. On Growth, our team writes and sends the campaigns for you.

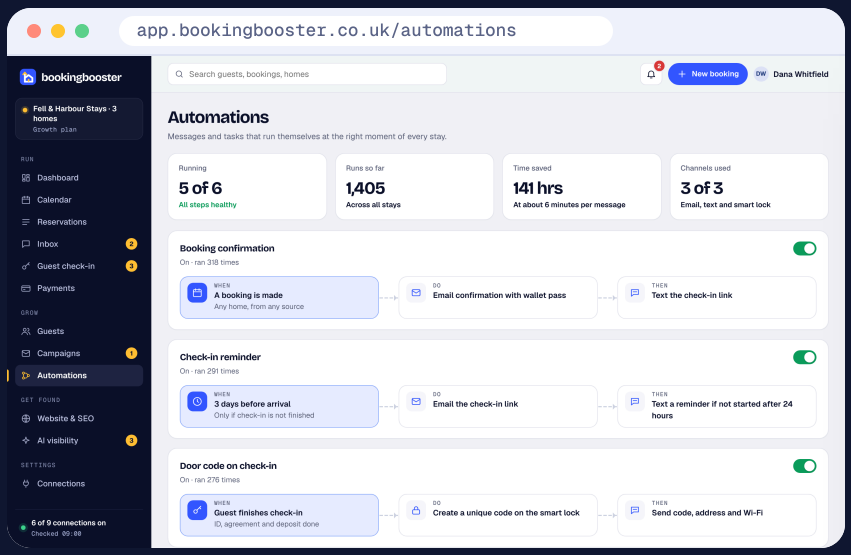

Guests. Demo account. Guest names, counts and values are sample data from the Bookingbooster prototype.

Campaigns. Demo account. Results shown are sample data, not customer results.

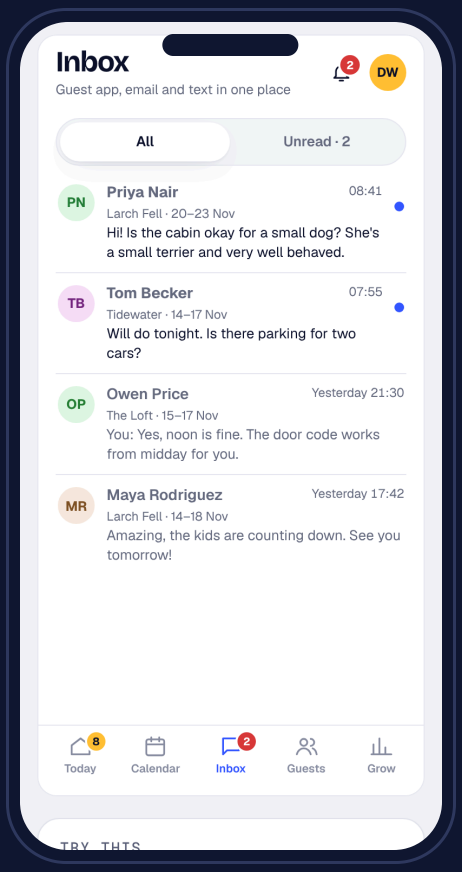

+ THE PLAYS, ON AUTOPILOT

Service messages that run themselves

Automations. Confirmation, check-in reminder and door code, sent at the right moment. Demo account.

- Play 1: confirmation, pre-arrival and door code, automated
- Plays 2 and 3: thank-you and anniversary emails to opted-in guests
- Play 4: gap nights spotted on your calendar and offered to your list
- Segments: repeat guests, pet owners, lapsed guests, ready to email
- Texts: outreach by text on Growth, with opt-out handled

Host app. Direct guest messages, email and text in one inbox. Demo account.

CONSENT BUILT IN

Sign-ups at checkout and check-in are recorded with each guest, and unsubscribes are honoured automatically, so your list stays clean.

READY WHEN YOU ARE

Bring guests back. Keep the booking direct.

Your own booking site, guest list and campaigns, set up for you in a week. No setup fee, cancel anytime.

Starter and Growth cover up to 3 homes. Prices are per month, inc VAT. Optional calendar sync with your channel manager, Airbnb, Vrbo or Booking.com, so you never double book: £15/month. Prices to be confirmed. Campaigns written and sent for you, and text outreach, are included from Growth.

What happens in your first week

DAY 1
A 30-minute call about your homes, prices and policies.

DAYS 2-4
We build your booking site on your domain and connect payments.

DAYS 5-6
Check-in app, door codes and guest list set up and tested.

DAY 7
You review it, we publish, and your site is ready for direct bookings.
